

As a lifelong entrepreneur, Marcel Arsenault, CEO/Founder of Real Capital Solutions, has pursued a passion for building sustainable solutions. Mr. Arsenault views the resources he endows to One Earth Future as “venture capital”, to be used to help create solutions that are valued by institutions other than his own. He believes that by helping humanity create new systems to solve emerging problems, it is possible to achieve self-perpetuating, systemic change over the long term.

One Earth Future has achieved this kind of impact by coordinating the private sector, civil society, and local and national governments, which all contribute to “peace through governance.” The strategy remains focused on building other multi-sector governance networks. The team does this by listening to local voices (the stakeholders) and designing OEF programs to fit within their context and goals. Learn more at www.OneEarthFuture.org.
